

VINCENT MORGAN APPLAUDS NEW HEALTHCARE LAW

"The right thing to do is sometimes the hardest"

NEW YORK, NY (March 23, 2010) – New York Democratic Congressional candidate Vincent Morgan applauds President Obama and the U.S. Congress for "doing the right thing in making affordable, quality healthcare available to all Americans."

"Finally, after months of debate and acrimony, this legislation enshrines a right I feel every American is entitled to. Everyone deserves access to comprehensive medical coverage and no one should be left out of the healthcare system because of an inability to pay."

The law will have special significance for the district Morgan hopes to represent. "In the 15th Congressional District, our average income is under $27,000 per year per household," he said. "Soaring healthcare costs have bankrupted individuals, devastated family savings and victimized those with pre-existing conditions. Small businesses in our community cannot afford to offer insurance to employees and big businesses cannot keep up with escalating costs."

In spite of his positive comments, Morgan admits "The final bill is not perfect and does not solve every problem -- but it is definitely a major step forward. The greatest reward from this exercise may be the realization of just how much we can achieve when we endeavor to do the right thing."

He went on to say "I am proud of Congress for stepping up to the plate, making the hard choice and putting the people first. This new law will be remembered in future generations as a turning point for our nation."
